

Saving Your Work

- When the base station is powered-up, the last saved file used will automatically be loaded into the active file. (Exception is File10)
- Settings not saved into a base station file will be lost if the base station is turned off.
- Whenever the PC850 'Connects' to a working base station, the screen will reflect the "Active" file settings.
- Saving the "Active" file to the PC does not save the settings in the base.
- Always save the base station settings before turning off the base station.